

Draft Resolution on “Good Governance”

SC- Political/Draft Res/2017/02
15 March 2017

Realizing that good governance is inextricably linked to sustainable development which leads to stability and prosperity;

Recalling, UN Commission on Human Rights Resolution No.2005/68 of 20 April 2005, UN Human Rights Council Resolution No.7/11 of 27 March 2008 on “Good Governance for the Promotion of Human Rights” and as well as the “United Nations Millennium Declaration”;

Recognizing the importance of good governance in the achievement of SDGs;

Recalling the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948, the Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination, 1969, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, 1976, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, 1976, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, 1979, the Convention against Torture, 1987, the Convention on the Rights of Child, 1990, which provides every citizen, irrespective of gender, religion or race, a right to take part in the public affairs;

Therefore, we the Members of the Asian Parliamentary Assembly,

1. Reiterate that good governance is a key to achieving inclusive economic, social and institutional development;
2. Recognizes that transparency in all its forms and manifestations, free, responsible media, right to information, popular participation in government (India), and a vibrant civil society are the pillars of good governance;
3. Suggests that Member Parliaments may provide indicators for good governance;
4. Stresses upon the Member Parliaments to identify gaps in governance which may lead to poverty, injustice and terrorism resulting in the weakening of democratic institutions;
5. Calls upon Member Parliaments to ensure enhanced participation of women, youth and minorities in the national political process;
